Abstract of DE3844570

A quick-change frame for pictures or the like has four frame profiled strips (16) which are connected to one another via corner-connecting angles (30). The frame profiled strips (16), which are cut off straight, are fitted onto the corner-connecting angles (30). Covering plates (20) arranged on the corner-connecting angles (30) cover the ends of the frame profiled strips. Glass pane (68), picture (70) and a rear wall (72) are held via springs (80) which are anchored on ribs (90, 94) on the frame profiled strips (16). Arranged between opposite frame profiled strips are bracing bands (100) which engage on the ribs (94).
